

KIRIDIALOGUES

I was impressed to hear the Abbot Koyu say, 'It is typical of the unintelligent man to insist on assembling complete sets of everything. Imperfect sets are better.' — (Kenkō 1283-1350), Tsurezuregusa, Essay 82

AN INCOMPLETE SET OF MY FAVORITE MUSICAL THINGS

lecture and presentation
by ROBERT DUCKWORTH

Robert will assemble a fully imperfect set of everything musically that he likes that can be shared in 30 min or less. He'll switch gears, move into workshop mode, and talk about some tools and methods you might use to create this same trauma with your own circle of friends and family, both past and future (thanks to the Internet, our follies persist in perpetuity in both directions of time's arrow) and entice them to do so over the holidays! Look deep within — it's either this, or you actually try and figure if you've already given that person one of those things for that day everybody celebrates. Why not just give them a totally incomplete set of your favorite musical things instead?

LUNCH

12/22/21

Shalom 1-1

#KiridialogueFav

*Deus tuus et deus ne fides leuice se deus supple ma Doulce d'aimer fille. Belle borne ...
Car tout deus am q'adieu naq mon entente,
de fo sup q' deus q'ies seule jelle qui fame
shes que d'afin deus appelle. flout de beaute sur toutes excellence Belle borne ...*